Parameter 5: Was the institute equipped with all facilities related to curriculum?

Action Taken: Alumni are satisfied with the facilities offered by the institute, though institute continuously upgrades the facilities according to curriculum requirements to pace with recent trends.

Parameter 6: ICT tools such as smart board, LCD etc. are used for teaching learning process?

Action Taken: Here, 93% alumni marked 'Yes', which indicated alumni are satisfied with ICT tool provided by the institute. However, institute always upgrades the facilities in focus of teaching learning process.

Parameter 7: Curriculum inculcates pharmaceutical ethics and life- long learning?

Action Taken: Alumni (100%) agreed with curriculum that inculcates pharmaceutical ethics and life- long learning. While designing and conducting extension activities (co-and extra-curricular) institute tries to fulfill PO11, that is life-long learning.

Action Taken Report on Employers Feedback (Academic Performance)

Based on the report of analysis, following actions have been taken by the institution:

Parameter 1: Did the institute provide student centric teaching learning process?

Action taken: The employers marked 'Yes' (100%) to the parameter related to student centric teaching learning process, which clearly indicates that institute takes special efforts to pedagogics.

Parameter 2: Did the institute take special efforts to strengthen soft skills?

Action Taken: The employers marked 'Yes' (100%), which clearly indicates special efforts taken by the institute to sharpen soft skills by conducting value added courses such as 'Personality and soft Skill Development'.

Parameter 3: Did certificate/value added courses offered by the institute enrich candidate's skills?

Action Taken: Employers marked (30%) 'Strongly agree', while 60% 'Agree'. Further, taking into consideration of these responses, institute continued certificate courses such as 'Personality and soft skill Development', 'Recent Trend in Pharmaceutical technology', 'Hands-on Training on Reference Management Software', and 'Certificate Course in Clinical Research' and 'Pharmacovigilance'.

Parameter 4: Students gained enough theoretical knowledge and practical skills to cope up with the work environment?

Action Taken: Employers marked around (30%) 'Strongly agree', while 50% 'Agree'. Further, taking into consideration of these responses, institute continued certificate courses such as 'Personality and soft skill Development', 'Recent Trend in Pharmaceutical technology' and 'Certificate Course in Clinical Research' and 'Pharmacovigilance', which further fulfilled the lacuna.

Parameter 5: Curriculum inculcates pharmaceutical ethics and life-long learning?

Action Taken: Here, around 85% alumni marked 'Yes', which indicated that curriculum inculcates pharmaceutical ethics and life-long learning.

M. Pharm Sem I and Sem II

1. Overall understanding of the subject

Action taken: The overall understanding of the subject was indicated 'excellent' by QA department students, while 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' by students of the pharmaceuticals department. Additionally, to enhance understanding of the subject, teachers used videos, ppts and animations.

2. Applicability/relevance to real life situations

Action taken: Students of both departments indicated 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' for 'Applicability/relevance to real life situations'. Here, teachers correlated theoretical concepts by simulating with simple examples to real life situations.

3. Theoretical concepts of syllabus supported by Practical/Experiments

Action taken: Students marked 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' which indicated that theoretical concepts of syllabus were supported by performing practical. Moreover, teachers amalgamated practical and theory hand-in-hand by utilizing sophisticated equipment to ease the concept.

4. Study material availability is adequate

Action taken: Students are provided with reference and text books, e-books, videos links and Google classroom, which appeared in students' feedback as 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good'.

5. Does the subject instills creativity

Action taken: Students marked 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' for 'Does the subject instills creativity'. Teachers used videos and animations for visual understanding to instill creativity and interest in the subject. Additionally, teachers explained relevant research papers.

B. Pharm Sem III and Sem IV

1. Overall understanding of the subject

Action taken: Students marked 'excellent' for both semesters, and also 'very good' and 'good' which confirmed overall understanding of the subject. However, some theoretical subjects such as physical pharmaceutics and pharmaceutical organic chemistry are made easy to understand by teaching the subject in simple language and supported by practical experiments.

2. Applicability/relevance to real life situations

Action taken: Here, to relate the subject with real life situations, teachers used daily life examples correlating to theoretical concepts and made the topic easy. Students marked 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' for the question 'Applicability/relevance to real life situations'.

3. Theoretical concepts of syllabus supported by Practical/Experiments

Action taken: Students marked 'very good' and 'good' 'satisfactory' for 'Theoretical concepts of syllabus supported by Practical/Experiments'. Practicals are made interesting by combining them hand-in-hand with theoretical concepts as well as by the use of sophisticated instruments and showing them videos and animations.

4. Study material availability is adequate

Action taken: Students marked 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' as students are having access to libraries rich in reference and textbooks, e-books, e-material, videos links, use of Google classroom and uploaded teaching material on MOODLE.

5. Does the subject instills creativity

Action taken: Students answered 'excellent', 'very good' and 'good' to the question 'Does the subject instill creativity'. Moreover, some theoretical subjects are made interesting by teachers by showing videos and animations.

Action taken Report on Teachers' Feedback (Curriculum) 2022-23

1: Depth of course contents

Action taken: Teachers allotted to courses of B. Pharm semester I to VIII, M. Pharm semester I and II indicated 'excellent' and 'very good'. Depth of course content is good. However, some topics which are considered as 'must be included' in the syllabus are taught by teachers as 'content beyond syllabus'.

2: Recent advances in course are covered/Not

Action Taken: Semester I, II, III and IV courses such as HAP I & II, POC I, Biochemistry, pathophysiology, physical pharmaceutics, instrumental methods of analysis which are basic and core subjects did not have recent advances. However, teachers provided extra information considering the recent advancements in these courses.

3: Applicability/relevance to real life situations

Action Taken: Teachers of B. Pharm semester I, III, V, VII and M. Pharm semester-I marked Very Good and Good because some core courses such as pharmaceutical analysis, pharmaceutical organic chemistry, medicinal chemistry, instrumental method of analysis were not related to real life situations.

4: Does the course instills creativity

Action Taken: Institute follows the curriculum designed by SPPU, wherein, institute does not have authority to make changes. However, to fulfill this gap, the institute conducted various competitions that helped to encourage and create interest amongst students such as poster presentations, participation in National Pharmacy Week, various NSS activities where students show-case their ideas and creativity. Students were motivated to participate in various competitions at national and international forums to inculcate creativity and innovative ideas to them. Students created you -tube videos which really showed their innovativeness towards performing experiments.

5: Does the course address about human/social values, professional ethics

Action Taken: Basic and core subjects such as computer applications, pharmaceutical organic chemistry and medicinal chemistry did not inculcate human/social values, professional ethics. However, the institute addressed human/social values by forming an anti-ragging committee chaired by senior faculty of the institute which is composed of both faculty and student representatives to avoid any undue incidences of ragging either in the institute. Thus, human

Subject: Regarding the submission of report based on 'feedback on curriculum' collected from stakeholders

Dear Sir/ Madam,

JSPM's Rajarshi Shahu College of Pharmacy and Research is accredited with 'A' grade at cycle one of NAAC. Now the institute is in the process of NAAC cycle two. In view of this, it is to inform you that IQAC of the institute has collected 'feedback on curriculum' from various stakeholders. The IQAC analyzed the report and the committee found that overall feedback is satisfactory with no considerable scope of improvement.

Kindly convey the response regarding the same.
